

TLS 8001 Certificate from The Ministry of Labour

There is a current global focus on doing business in a socially responsible manner. This includes respect for the human rights of workers and providing working conditions that encourage personal development and improve quality of life. This is what this award is all about.

Granted by Department of Labour Protection and Welfare, Ministry of Labour, PDM is one of 859 business establishments that were awarded this honor.

Ministry of Labour promulgated Thai Labour Standards of social responsibility as tools for employers to implement so that Thai workers can achieve global standards. It aims to promote legitimate workplace practices as the foundation. The practices are designed to international standards and are included in management systems which guarantees that the practice is sustainable and will fulfill the aim of continuous improvement of worker welfare.
